Pickton Miggie

From: NECTAR

Sent: 22 December 2009 11:35

To: NECTAR

Subject: FW: Your contribution to RCIE 4(3) Attachments: 3_Rose_RCIE_4_3_web.pdf

From: Roger Osborn-King [mailto:rok@symposium-journals.co.uk]

Sent: Tue 06/10/2009 13:54 To: Rose Richard; aoneill@cice.ie Subject: Your contribution to RCIE 4(3)

Your contribution to RCIE 4(3)

Attached is a copy of the PDF file of your contribution to RESEARCH IN COMPARATIVE AND INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION exactly as it appears now within the journal at http://www.wwwords.co.uk/RCIE/content/pdfs/4/issue4 3.asp

You are welcome to print as many copies as you need for your personal use.

ARCHIVING. You are welcome to deposit the original/personal manuscript file of your contribution in your institution's archive or other website (ideally with a link to the final version as it appears on the journals' website). However, the journal asks that you do not deposit the final typeset version (i.e. the website version attached to this email) until 18 months after formal publication.

EMBARGO PERIOD. Please note that all articles in this journal automatically become open access 18 months after publication, so you are asked to respect that embargo period during which only paid-up subscribers can access the journal's content. The journal really DOES need those paying customers if it is to continue to improve and expand.

Full information about Personal and Library subscriptions can be found at www.wwwords.co.uk/subscribeRCIE.asp

Many thanks for your contribution.

Tel: +44 (0)1235 817 956 Fax: +44 (0)1235 817 275 Check out www.symposium-journals.co.uk for the contents of our journals, with abstracts and full texts of all articles, instructions for contributors, together with complete editorial, bibliographical and subscription information.

Symposium Journals is the trading name of wwwords Ltd